

Pastor's e-Note

Morristown United Methodist Church (11/3/2017)

Dear Friends,

Aloha from Honolulu. We have arrived safely in Honolulu, and we are happy to reconnect with my dad and mom this week. We will be spending some quality time with them for these next several days.

While supporting our parents, we hope to engage in a time of deep listening to God for our respective pastoral ministries. Pastor Jennifer has been running non-stop at the Bridgewater UMC since last July, and I also hope to be a good and supportive husband for her so that she can have a little time to rest and relax. Thank you for your on-going prayers for us and my parents.

Last Sunday was glorious. As someone expressed during the service, “it was the best celebration of Protestant Reformation!” Thank you, thank you and thank you to our Chancel Choir for presenting such inspiring music. Thank you, Sarah, for your excellent leadership, and, Jennifer, for your beautiful accompaniment.

This coming Sunday is All Saints Sunday. We will remember our loved ones who have gone before us and who are resting in the Lord. Jack Scharf will deliver a powerful message for you. Holy Communion will be celebrated as well. So, join us for worship this Sunday.

We are planning to welcome new members in December. So, if you have been attending our church, and feel led to make this church as your “home church” and join this vital church family, please let Jack Scharf know this week at jackscharf777@gmail.com.

I am sending on to you the warm breeze and the sunshine from here. May the peace and love of Christ bless you and keep you always.

Blessings,

Pastor Brandon
